Clusters and Networks Update (and a Reminder of $$!)

We know more online meetings may be the last thing on your mind. But just in case: If you are considering starting a new Network or Cluster, or if you've already been gathering, please take a moment to make sure that the Regional Council knows you're meeting. If your Cluster or Network is open to new members (and we hope it is) please make sure you're listed. Please contact the Regional Council Office (northernspirit@united-church.ca) or Julie Graham (jgraham@united-church.ca) to make sure we have contact information and a short description. And remember: there is money in the Regional Council budget to support your work. Maybe you want an offer to pay for event registrations or resources. Maybe you want to submit receipts for a get together lunch over Zoom to support a sense of community. Don't let funding worries get in the way! Questions about this? Contact the office.

Local Petition to Save Alberta Parks has United Church Roots

The Alberta government plans to close 20 park sites and delist 164 others, citing low visitor numbers and savings of $5 million (which equals about $1.14 per Albertan). Once these parks are delisted they no longer have any protection and can be converted into Crown Land, which does not have the same environmental and recreational protections as parks. Neither the wider public nor First Nations or Metis were consulted about this, so concerns about this decision include creation care, democracy, and respect for the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. Athabasca, Stony Plain, and Living Spirit United Churches have been involved in creating a petition asking the government to not only save their local parks, but to halt the process entirely. This media story offers some additional background and local perspective. The petition has now been tabled in the Legislature, but people can develop their own and keep the pressure going!

The United Church Supports Mi'kmaq Treaty Rights

Being the church together means living into the 1986 Apology to Indigenous Peoples together, and committing to understanding what it means to be Treaty People today. Tensions remain very high in Mi'kmaq territory/Nova Scotia, as the Sipekne'katik First Nation exercises its treaty rights to fish lobster over sometimes violent protest from non-Indigenous fishers. Regional Council 15 is asking for prayers from across the church and helped organize an interfaith leaders' delegation to the area in late October. The national church shares the prayer and an update here. Moderator Richard Bott and Indigenous Ministries Executive Minister Murray Pruden have responded with a letter to the church that says, in part, that, "As a church that has repudiated colonial doctrines and committed itself to Indigenous rights, to the ongoing work of building right relations, and to opposing racism in all of its forms, we cannot remain silent." Video: Olive Harvest in the Occupied Palestinian Territories

As Canada settles into winter, the Middle East also prepares for the close of the growing season. The annual olive harvest is a deeply significant time, culturally, economically, and spiritually. In the Occupied Palestinian Territories, it is also a time of great tension and violence. Olive groves are frequently targeted by extremist Israeli settlers who are living in the Occupied Territories in defiance of international law. The World Council of Churches offers this short video about the struggles facing Palestinian farmers: <https://youtu.be/d2Nk3a3DcHo>.
