February is Black History (or African Heritage) Month in Canada, a time to honour the contributions and struggles of peoples of African descent. How do you (and your congregation) plan to mark it? The United Church has many worship resources for each week, including new blog posts, prayers, and a new Black History Month service for 2021. ### Youth and Young Adults Retreat: Zeebu 2021

The Prairie to Pine YAAY (Young Adults and Youth) Committee invites youth and young adults from Northern Spirit to join them at the virtual Zeebu 2021 “Retreat”, Friday, February 12 (6-8 pm MT) and Saturday, February 13 (8:30-11 am MT). The Theme is All our Relations, and the event will include interactive Theme Time, Worship and Music, and a Games Night. Home groups will be arranged by age groupings. ### 10th Annual Moose Hide Campaign Day: Reconciliation in Action

The Moose Hide Campaign is an Indigenous-born grassroots movement of Indigenous and non-Indigenous men and boys who are standing up against violence towards women and children. The Campaign invites all Canadians from all genders, backgrounds and cultures to stand with us. A cornerstone of the Moose Hide Campaign is the moose hide pin. These can be ordered free from our website, and can be shipped anywhere in Canada. Wearing the moose hide pin signifies your commitment to honour, respect, and protect the women and children in your life and to speak out against gender-based and domestic violence. Now more than ever, your leadership and example are needed to help address the rising levels of violence against women and children in our country, an issue that has only been exacerbated by the pandemic.

On Moose Hide Campaign Day, Thursday, February 11, everyone is invited to come together online for a day of action, inspiration, ceremony and fasting. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, this will be the first year the gathering will be held entirely online, where attendees will be guided through a virtual day of ceremony, keynote speeches, and an engaging and diverse line-up of interactive workshops. For more information, and to register, please click here.

Making a Difference through GSA Support

Here is some public praise for St Andrew's UC in Spruce Grove, Alberta, for their support for a Gay-Straight/Gender-Sexuality Alliance in the community. Their support, and physical and spiritual space, are making a much-needed difference to LGBTQIA+ and Two Spirit students. Please keep in mind that GSAs and Pride groups may need extra support and solidarity during the pandemic, whether space or other forms of support. Can your community of faith offer those to a GSA in your local school?

2021 Annual Meeting Planning Committee: Are you called?

Your Nominations Committee, Marilyn Carroll and Brenda Simon, would like your help in finding people for the Planning Committee for the 2021 Regional Council Annual Meeting. Our meeting will again be online, and that creates both challenges and great opportunities for trying new things. A wide range of identities, experiences, and skills are needed for the planning team. You don't need to be a Certified Annual Meeting Expert. You do need to be interested in how to make this online space for Worship, decision-making, learning, and community the best space it can be -- at a time when sacred space and community are more important than ever. Please consider this invitation, or invite others to, and please share it widely. Here is the full description. Watch this space for many more upcoming opportunities to be part of Regional opportunities and spaces.

Special note to Lay Representatives to the Regional Council: your term lasts the entire year (contrary to rumour, it is not a life sentence!) You are an important connecting point between your community of faith and the Regional Council. Are there people in your community of faith who might be called to serve the wider church, and can you help connect them to the Nominations Committee? Are there ways of communicating and inviting that would help you make that connection? Please let the committee know, by email to northernspirit@united-church.ca.

Perspectives on K-12 Education for Reconciliation: Panel Discussion

Some in our Region have expressed major concern that the government's proposed new curriculum has removed key pieces of education about the reality of residential schools. On February 17, 2021, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. (MT), this event will provide an opportunity to learn from qualified and knowledgeable education partners about why the Alberta government needs to "make age-appropriate curriculum on residential schools, Treaties, and Aboriginal peoples' historical and contemporary contributions to Canada a mandatory education requirement for Kindergarten to Grade Twelve students", to gain increased knowledge and understanding of this issue, and to be prepared to share feedback when the Alberta Education Minister allows for public input in Stage 5 of the development of the new curriculum later in 2021. For more information or to register, please click here. This event is hosted by Alberta's Remembering the Children Society, of which the United Church is a member, and it is a chance for us as a church to live into the TRC Calls for Action to which we've committed.

United Church Rural Ministry Network: Upcoming Workshops

As part of their mandate, "Connecting rural stories with rural people across Canada", the UCRMN is hosting two workshops to support to rural ministries. For more information about the Network, please visit their web site: <https://ucrmn.ca/>.

Ashes and Resurrection: How are COVID Days Shaping Us for Newness? February 18, 2021, 11:00 am to 1:00 pm (MT), Tickets are $10. C.S. Lewis said, "you can't go back and change the beginning but you can start where you are and change the ending". How are our practices in these days - our ways of being church "together while apart" - shaping us for newness? What are we discovering as an answer to the question, why is the church? Participants will share practices that nourish and connect us these days, and also, how they open our hearts to something new. There will be time to just be together to share stories, and time to be encouraged, to take heart in these days with Scriptural themes of annunciation and exile, stars and wilderness. For more information, or to register, please click here.

Practical Technology Possibilities for Rural Churches

During COVID, many of those in small and rural churches have learned more than they thought possible about sharing technology, and find that learning will well serve the church in the future. The UCRMN will be facilitating a workshop on practical tech possibilities. Please contact editor@ucrmn.ca if you would be interested in participating, and indicate whether you would like to see it before Easter to help with Easter prep (early to mid- March) or in mid-April (post-Easter). Tickets are $10 to help cover the cost of the workshop.

Want to do your own Online Workshop? You supply the topic and the leadership, and UCRMN will supply the logistics, such as advertising, registration, Zoom platform, and all the administration needed for a successful workshop. E-mail Connor at office@UCRMN.ca to talk about possibilities.

Circles of Support

We are all living through the same pandemic - "all the time, same storm but with different boats". We are also living through precarious economic times, austerity plans and divisive, dangerous politics. This non-faith-based support circle uses expressive art methods to process our thoughts and feelings around the current time. Each session will start by checking in with each other, then sharing feelings and thoughts, exploring possible hopeful futures through being creative together, and closing the time together. The circles will be held from 11:00 am to 12:30 p.m. (MT), on January 23, February 20 and March 20, 2021. You are invited to come to one circle or many, and to bring and eat your brunch (or not). The hope is that we will feel less alone during this stage of the pandemic and political climate. To register, please visit <https://www.rwuc.org/artistic-justice-workshops/>.

ReJUNEvation: Now it Springs Forth: Looking for Ecumenical Movement with Fresh Eyes

St. Andrew's College will host its 2021 ReJUNEvation online - live from June 18-21, with Theme Leader the Rev. Canon Dr. Scott Sharman, a theologian and priest in the Anglican tradition. Scott will address the "sense of stall and stagnation and 'ecumenical winter' that came to dominate during the '90s and 00s", and offer a theological, methodological, and spiritual diagnosis as to why that might have happened. He will go on to offer examples of things that seem to be leading to new life and impetus for renewed ecumenical movement - an "ecumenical spring" - especially in the Canadian context. ### Union Theological College: Strategic Alliance with Anglican College

The United Theological College (UTC) and Montreal Diocesan Theological (Dio) are entering into a strategic alliance that will deepen and build on their long-standing collaboration in theological education. Following months of discussions among members of the Boards of Governors, the two colleges have begun an 18-month transition period in which they will explore and plan for the formation of a combined Anglican-United college in Montreal. Over the course of the winter semester, UTC will complete the process of selling its building and wind down its independent operations. Starting in September 2021, UTC students and faculty will be incorporated into a United Church Studies program within the structure of Montreal Diocesan Theological College under the principalship of the Rev. Canon Jesse Zink. United Church graduates of the college will be granted a testamur, which attests that they are academically qualified for ordination in the United Church of Canada. Dio and UTC have worked side-by-side for more than a century in the Montreal School of Theology, which also includes The Presbyterian College, and is affiliated with McGill University. Students in all three colleges already study together in similar degree programs that combine coursework at McGill with in-depth ministry placements and ecumenical teaching of mission and ministry.
